What Do You Do with a Voice Like That? The Story of Extraordinary Congresswoman Barbara Jordan

by Chris Barton & by Ekua Holmes

Named to 2019 NCSS list of Notable Social Studies Trade Books for Young People

“[In a timely yet subtle call-to-action, Barton exemplifies the importance and power of using one’s innate gifts and interests to affect positive change. ... ‘What do you do with a voice like that?’][1] If you’re Barton and Holmes, you create an extraordinary book... Everything succeeds in this collaborative effort.” – School Library Journal (starred review)

Back matter includes Author’s Note, Artist’s Note, Timeline, Recommended Viewing and Reading

Other picture book biographies of interest include:

The Amazing Age of John Roy Lynch, by Chris Barton & Don Tate

Martin’s Big Words: The Life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., by Doreen Rappaport & Bryan Collier

A Time to Act: John F. Kennedy’s Big Speech, by Shana Corey & R. Gregory Christie

Complete bibliography available at [chris Barton.info/books/barbarajordan.html](http://chris Barton.info/books/barbarajordan.html)

Author visit information available at [chris Barton.info/visits.html](http://chris Barton.info/visits.html)

“On a TV broadcast seen throughout the country, Barbara used her voice to show them the way. She reminded her audience that the Constitution is the document governing all the laws in the United States and applies to all of its people. Then she explained—in her big, bold, booming, crisp, clear, confident tone—how the president’s actions had gone against that document.”